Are you enthusiastic about supporting grassroots activism in a politically challenging environment?

If you want to contribute to grassroots communities and protection of Human Rights Defenders in the field, you might be the person we need to join a dynamic team, working closely with social movements and Civil Society Organizations. The Project Coordinator will be based in a national NGO in Jakarta, with regular work with grassroots Human Rights Defenders in rural areas of Indonesia.

Peace Brigades International (PBI) is an international grassroots NGO that has promoted non-violence and protected human rights since 1981. PBI uses its international presence and global networks to protect, support and enable the work of human right defenders and local activists for peaceful social change. For over 40 years, we have protected the lives of hundreds of activists. We are non-partisan and we believe that a lasting peace cannot be imposed from outside but must come from the desires of local people. Please see peacebrigades.org for more information.

The Project Coordinator will report directly to PBI's Indonesia Project Committee. The Project Committee is looking to appoint the right candidate to start in Jakarta in summer 2025. Due to donor requirements, only European Union and Swiss nationals may apply to this position. The successful applicant will receive a two-to-three-month training in Europe prior to beginning the two-year overseas placement in Indonesia.
